

“Cool Globes” Initiative Will Address Global Warming Solutions

Global warming is rapidly becoming one of the most pressing issues facing today's corporations. We are proud to announce that Jenner & Block is a sponsor of “Cool Globes: Hot Ideas for a Cooler Planet,” an upcoming public art project designed to increase awareness of and promote solutions to global warming. The exhibit is being held along Chicago's lake front from June to September 2007.

Corporations, government, non-profit organizations and the community at large have come together to increase awareness of global warming through public art, Internet information, education and events. The exhibit will feature 100 large globes designed by local and international artists, each depicting an environmentally important message and potential solution for global warming. Each globe, measuring five feet in diameter, will suggest to viewers a variety of ways to combat global warming. The initiative will also feature a lecture series by prominent scientists, business and civic leaders, and celebrities, as well as a business leaders roundtable for executives to share best practices for company-wide environmental initiatives.

At the conclusion of the exhibit, the globes will be auctioned to the public. Proceeds from the auction will fund environmental education initiatives in local public schools.
