Kevin E. Raphael to Speak at the Pennsylvania Bar Institute's
13th Annual Health Law Institute

Philadelphia. Kevin E. Raphael, a shareholder at the Philadelphia firm of Miller, Alfano & Raspanti, P.C., will be speaking at the Pennsylvania Bar Institute's 13th Annual Health Law Institute on Tuesday, March 13, 2007. The Institute will be held in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The PBI's Health Law Institute will include 47 workshops covering many topics, including Mr. Raphael's workshop and presentation, entitled "The Criminal and Civil Risks to a Provider of Using Non-FDA Approved Drugs and Devices." The presentation will focus on criminal exposure to misdemeanor and felony offenses, permissive or mandatory exclusion from Medicare, possible collateral consequences, and False Claims Act liability.

Mr. Raphael, a former Philadelphia prosecutor, focuses his practice on white collar criminal defense, civil and criminal health care fraud defense, commercial disputes, professional licensing litigation as well as liquor licensing litigation. In addition, Mr. Raphael litigates a broad range of civil matters involving contract actions, employment disputes, and securities and common law fraud.

Mr. Raphael received his B.A. from St. Lawrence University and his J.D. from the State University of New York at Buffalo School of Law.
