Stephen G. Stroup Speaks Before American Association of Attorney-Certified Public Accountants'
Delaware Valley Regional Chapter

PHILADELPHIA - Stephen G. Stroup, a shareholder at the Philadelphia law firm of Miller, Alfano and Raspanti, P.C., gave a presentation to the Delaware Valley Regional Chapter of the American Association of Attorney-Certified Public Accountants, entitled "Securities Class Action Litigation: Comparing & Contrasting the Plaintiff & Defense Perspectives". Mr. Stroup's presentation, which took place on March 8, 2007, discussed how recent conflicting decisions among the federal circuit courts could elevate the heightened pleading requirement for class action plaintiffs under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act.

Mr. Stroup is an attorney licensed to practice law in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. He is also a Pennsylvania-licensed Certified Public Accountant and a Certified Fraud Examiner. Mr. Stroup concentrates his litigation practice on Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Enforcement Defense, Complex Civil Disputes and White Collar Criminal Defense. He has particularized experience handling SEC regulatory investigations and enforcement actions, Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB) investigations and private securities litigation.

Mr. Stroup received his B.S. from Lehigh University and graduated with honors from Widener University School of Law, where he served on the Editorial Board of The Delaware Journal of Corporate Law. He can be reached telephonically at (215) 972-6400 or electronically at sstroup@mar-law.com.
