

BTI Honors Partner James McKenna as Member of Client Service “All-Star Team”

12/21/2006

Jenner & Block Partner James A. McKenna was recently recognized for his “exceptional client service” to Fortune 1000 clients in a survey by BTI Consulting. BTI honored an “elite” group of 113 attorneys from across the country as part of the 2007 BTI Client Service All-Star Team, who were named as providers of “truly superior client service” in the consulting firm’s interviews with over 250 individual corporate counsel at large companies.

According to a report released by BTI, Mr. McKenna was chosen for his ability “to go beyond core legal skills” and differentiate himself “in key aspects of client service,” such as client focus, exceptional understanding of his clients’ business, and his ability to deliver results.

Mr. McKenna and the other BTI All Stars were also recognized for their consistent delivery of “targeted strategic advice,” their “superior use of clients’ time and resources,” and their “ultra-responsive and timely answers to clients’ most pressing needs.

Mr. McKenna is Co-Chair of the Firm’s Trade Secrets and Unfair Competition Practice and a member of the Firm’s Bankruptcy, Workout and Corporate Reorganization, Intellectual Property, Antitrust and Trade Regulation, Arbitration: Domestic and International, and Class Action Litigation Practices.

Based in Boston, BTI Consulting is the leading provider strategic research to the legal industry.
