American Inns of Court Elects John W. Robinson, IV as Trustee of 11th Circuit

Tampa, FL – The American Inns of Court members have elected John W. Robinson, IV, an employment lawyer at the law firm of Fowler White Boggs Banker, as trustee for the 11th Circuit (Florida, Georgia and Alabama) for a three year term. The American Inns of Court foster legal excellence and professionalism through almost 300 local chapters or Inns. The American Inns follow the pattern of English Inns of Court that train and develop barristers as trial advocates.

Mr. Robinson is a shareholder and practices in the firm's Employment and Workers' Compensation Practice Group. He is Board Certified in Civil Trial, Business Litigation and Labor and Employment Law.

Fowler White Boggs Banker is a Florida law firm with more than 220 attorneys in nine offices throughout the state in Tampa, St. Petersburg, Ft. Myers, Tallahassee, Orlando, Naples, Bonita Springs Jacksonville and Ft. Lauderdale. For more information, visit www.fowlerwhite.com
