

Fowler White Strengthens Corporate Practice with Addition of Daniel Nunn

Jacksonville, FL – Daniel B. Nunn, Jr. has joined the law firm of Fowler White Boggs as a shareholder in the Business Transactional and Corporate Law Practice Group in its Jacksonville office.

Mr. Nunn practices in the areas of business and corporate law, with an emphasis on mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance, securities law, finance, and franchise law. He represents buyers, sellers and management groups in taxable and nontaxable transactions involving public and private companies. He advises issuers and equity sponsors in venture capital transactions, and he assists clients with structuring, negotiating and consummating joint ventures and strategic alliances.

In addition, he counsels boards of directors, audit committees and other independent committees with respect to corporate governance issues and fiduciary obligations. He also advises clients in connection with public and private securities offerings and public company reporting requirements. He is a frequent speaker on topics relating to business transactions and corporate governance matters.

“The addition of Daniel Nunn is another significant step in our firm’s strategic approach to growing our statewide corporate practice.” said Thomas E. Gibbs, Co-Chair of the firm’s Corporate Practice. “Daniel brings exceptional experience to broaden our ability to meet the expanding needs of our clients locally, nationally and internationally.”

Prior to joining Fowler White Boggs, Mr. Nunn was a partner with the law firm of McGuireWoods. He received his B.A. from the University of Florida and his J.D., with honors, from the University of Florida Levin College of Law.
